An Associated Press Editor Rerukes His Fellows

WHO PEDDLE FALSE REPORTS

its as A News Gatherer and Distributer-Facts vs. Piction.

Saspesky, Ohio, Oct. 33 .- The San cinted Press and edited by L F. Mack, who was for a long time president of the Western Associated Press, has the following editorial in today's issue: "Commending on the fact that the New York World has abandoned the United Press and is taking the reports of the Associated Press the Cleveland Plaindealer says that the United Press has but little strength outside of New York City. The managers of the Associated Press will gain nothing by false-hoods. The United Press furnishes the news of the day to more than twice the number of papers furnished by the Associated Press. The United Press furnishes the power of the day to every paper in New England that gets a regular press report except one paper in Springfield. The United Press furnishes the papers of Philadelphia and Baltimore all but one small and insignificant paper in the city of Washington, all the papers of Enchmond and Savannah, all the papers in the state of Pennsylvania except those of Pittsburg and Oil City, all the papers of New York state except four in the city of New York and furnishes a very large number of papers in the central modile states and in the West. It has within a few months drawn from the Associated Press The Louisville Courier Journal, the Memphis Scinnitar. The Chicago Tribune and The Hilmeis State Zeitung. If also furnishes The Chicago Herald and Chicago Post.

It Furnishes the News. Register, a member of the Asso-Press and edited by L F. Mack, it Furnishes the News.

It Furnishes the News.

In the state of Ohio it furnishes two daily acceptances to the city of Cleveland, whose combined circulation is givester, they claim, than both The Leader and, The Plaindealer. It furnishes The Post in Cincinnati. The Bee in Tole lo, and some other papers in this state. It has not been obliged to increase assessments of its clients and members, nor ask for any guarantee fund. These are the facts, and it is not was for their Associated Press or its members to tell any falsehoods to beat their opponents. The United Press is a powerful organization. If the Associated Press gets the bester of it, it must do so by furnishing better news and more of it at a less price. It is a matter of pure indifference to the average newspaper how it gets its news, it is not a question of business. What the publisher wants is the best news of the day at the lowest price. If the Associated Press can meet these requirements, it will get the better of the United Press. If it cannot, it will get There is a great deal of nonzened floating about the papers of the Associated Press in regard to the United Press, a great deal of unnecessary blow and bluster. Results tell, and nothing clas. We throw out these hints for the benefit of the members of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a member of the Associated Press and the Register is a lie has had twenty years' experience in the gathering and distribution of news, and he knows what is necessary to make a press association a success, and he knows that blow and bluster will not do it but that securing the best news at the earliest moment and at the least possible price is what will win and what the newspapers of the day want. The Editors in Control.

The Plaindealer specingly refers to Charles A. Dana, W. M. Luffan and oth-ces, managers of the United Press, as stock jobbers in news. Among the members of the United Press in the city of New York who are stockholders to a very large amount are the New York Tribune, the Times, the Herald and the slun, papers of opposite politics, and their obitors all have a voice in the management of the United Press. It is New York Hereld would permit their papers to be used for shock property and the editor of the New York Hereld would permit their papers to be used for stock jobbing purposes. They are as much interested in furnishing reliable information to their readers as the Plaindealer or the Register, and it is accurate as insult to those ter, and it is emply an insult to those goutletoen to charge them with being interested in the United Press as a stock jobbing organization, when se a matter of fact it is simply a great news gather ing and distributing organization. wish the Platedealer to distinctly undeceived that we are permisarily interested in the stock of the United Press and we are potentially interested to the same extent as the Plaindealer in the stone of the Associated Press, but we do not believe in builtying our oppo-nents, ensering at them nor lying about

A NOBLE CHARITY

An Absolutely New Form o Alms-Giving.

The Lesson Taught by a Well-Known Charitable Lady.

Her Peculiar Charity and the Wonderful Good it Does.

People often think that charity consists an giving money. Isod or enterent to the poor. This is not an Sickness is the greatest enemy of the poor and a gift which will cure their sick and suffering ones is the very highest and noblest form of charity.

This lesson was impressed upon the writer by the well-known charitable lady Mrs. S. McMaster, of Watertown, Mass., whose husband was for fifty years a prominent business man of this piace. In the course of conversation she said:

"I suffered from debility and nervous prostration for two years. I was contined to my room for three months, the serves of the heart, stomach and howels ail affected. From the slightest exertion my heart would almost cease action and I was in danger of death, and in several instances was supposed to be dying.

"My stomach was so weak that I could use only milk as food for six months, and the bowels were very torpid. My condition was certainly deplorable and life was but a burden.

"While in this condition a young man who had been greatly benefited by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, urged me to try it. The result has been most gratifying to me and a surprise to all my friends. I am better than I have been for many years. This wonderful remedy is entitled to my gratitude, and I wish the afflicted to have the benefit of my experience.

"Since my recovery I have purchased dozens of bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura and given them to my friends, also to many poor people who were unable to provide for themselves, and have been richly rewarded in observing its good results.

"I have resided in Watertown for fifty years and my husband was a business."

richly rewarded in observing its good results.

"I have resided in Watertown for fifty years and my husband was a business man there many years, and the truth of my statement can be easily confirmed."

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is indeed the most wonderful medicine and curer of diseases ever discovered, and after curing yourself by its use, do not forget to send a few bottles to some of the ailing poor, and to see them restored to health and strength again will well repay your charity.

The medicine is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable, and all druggists sell it for $1.00. It is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene of 35 W. 14th street, New York, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic complaints, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.
